Nimtouri, West Bengal

Supply and installation of acrylic surface for a tennis court.

Project completion: December, 2022

Surface: Acrylic

Base: Asphalt

Nimtouri is a small town in the district of Medinipur, West Bengal. The state police department is in the midst of a massive project with high focus on infrastructure development. Naturally, sport remains a focal part of our lives wherever we go.

The acrylic tennis court here has been installed on an asphalt base. The construction was done by the client, with necessary inputs from us. The acrylic surface that has been installed is manufactured from premium quality 100% acrylic resins. The overall facility has good value in terms of investment made and is a good surface for playing tennis.

The actual installation took less than ten days to complete – thanks to our civil team previously having supervised the client in constructing the base.

Altius Sports is into end-to-end sport infrastructure development and has its own design, construction as well as installation team. With offices spread across India, we are never far from where you are and always at hand to help you with the next bespoke sporting facility in India.

We simply call it the love of the sport!
