

Venkateshwar International School

New Delhi, India

A multi-playing surface with line markings for football, hockey and volleyball along with a 250m running track and cricket wicket in the centre and a stand-alone tennis court.

Date of Project Completion: July 2013

Surface/s: Tournament 1000 (multi);
Deluxe (cricket); Advantage Pro (tennis).

Base Construction: Dynamic, porous base with sub soil drainage for multi & cement base for cricket and tennis.

The school's management needed an all-weather surface that was multi-playing in nature and not slushy or hard.

Tournament1000 is a medium-pile, sand-filled, fibrillated surface that is designed for areas with high use. This surface is great for tennis, hockey, athletics, futsal, basketball and most sports. That lines marking the various sports were tufted into the carpet, making it easy for demarcation and yet not taking away from the playing conditions.

A reservoir was created to harvest the rainwater and the same is now paying the school great dividends. the all-weather maintenance-friendly surface is now being used for coaching as well and has students from neighbouring areas also actively participating in sports.

The cricket wicket in the centre has been laid flush to the surface around it and provides a great experience to both the batsman and the bowler. The school already boasts of kids selected in the Delhi under-17 team.

The facility also has an Advantage Pro tennis court whose exclusive fibre type encapsulates more of the in-fill providing a lush surface for a truly world-class tennis court.

Her Excellency Jan Henderson, High Commissioner of New Zealand to India, inaugurated this facility.
